Virtual Memphis Program

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Thavolia Glymph

Dear Conference Participants,

The Southern Historical Association (SHA) welcomes you to our 2020 annual conference. A year ago I began my tenure as the 86th president of the Southern Historical Association, humbled by the honor that had been bestowed upon me and filled with excitement for the program we would have in the great city of Memphis. However, due to the coronavirus pandemic, for the first time since WWII, we will not gather as an organization in person. Instead, we will meet virtually to enjoy a creative and intellectually exciting program consisting of fourteen (14) panels and sessions drawn from the originally planned 2020 Memphis program. The remainder of the 2020 sessions will be moved to the 2021 SHA meeting in New Orleans.

We invite you to join us, November 19-21, 2020, for an extraordinary virtual program featuring leading and exciting new emerging scholars in the field of southern history. The program includes panels and sessions on the 19th Amendment, the Reconstruction Amendments, Black Lives Matter, Slavery and Freedom in the Age of the Revolution, the Freedmen and Southern Society Project, and new work on the Civil Rights Movement and the history of Memphis among other topics.

I take this opportunity to thank all of the talented and incredible members of the Program Committee co-chaired by Kendra Field, Joseph Reidy, and Randy Sparks and the Memphis Local Arrangements co-chairs, Beverly Bond and Tim Huebner for their extraordinary efforts to make this 2020 meeting one of the best; the awards committees for their diligence and hard work beyond the call of duty; and the wonderful support of incoming president, Steven Hahn, and the SHA staff. Frances Berry and Stephen Berry made everything possible.

In the midst of the unspeakable brutality of the pandemic, we are learning how to teach, research, write, and create in a new environment, how to support each other when we trip and support the most vulnerable among us. We are building new communities through ZOOM workshops, conferences, and seminars that have kept us engaged and energized. This is not easy work but it is essential work that we must do in memory of those who have sacrificed more.

Sincerely,
Thavolia Glymph
President, Southern Historical Association

REGISTRATION INFORMATION

REGISTER FOR THE VIRTUAL MEETING

Registration for the 2020 conference is free and open to the public. To register, please go to thesha.org/register. At the bottom of the page you will be able to add a 'ticket' to your cart and then click 'checkout.' You will then be emailed a link and code for completing registration. (You will also be asked to re-enter your email and choose a password.) While this system may seem a little cumbersome the process takes less than a minute to complete and we do want to secure our conference against zoom-bombing and the like. Do not hesitate to reach out to manager@thesha.org if you have any difficulties.

Please note that all times are Eastern Standard Time.

While we will miss the face time, raised glasses, and epic conversations with colleagues that are a mainstay of our meetings, the SHA remains a tight-knit community, and communities endure. The administrative office wishes particularly to thank President Thavolia Glymph for her tenacity, creativity, and grace in handling all of the many decisions that have guided us through the pandemic and given us what we already know is going to be a fantastic virtual experience.

Thanks also to the generous donations of Duke University, Trinity College of Arts and Sciences; Duke University, Department of History; and Randal and Naomi Hall, we are in a position to make registration free and open to the public. Of course as always we encourage you join (thesha.org/join). Membership is the lifeblood of our association, and our long-term health depends upon your actions.

ABOUT THE ASSOCIATION

The Southern Historical Association (SHA) was organized on November 2, 1934 and charged with promoting an "investigative rather than a memorial approach" to southern history. The Association seeks to 1) foster the study and teaching of all areas of history within the South; 2) foster the specific study of the history of the American South; 3) encourage the collection and preservation of historical records within the South; and 4) support and encourage state and local historical societies in the South. The Association holds an annual meeting, usually in the first or second week of November, and publishes the quarterly Journal of Southern History.

The SHA aims to be an inclusive organization and strives to treat all members with dignity and respect and to provide a community that is free from discrimination, whether based on race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, pregnancy, marital status, or any other status or classification protected by federal, state, or local law.

The Southern Historical Association opposes sexual harassment in all aspects of academia. Please read our full policy at our website: thesha.org/about

The Southern maintains two permanent offices: the editorial office of the Journal of Southern History at Rice University since 1959, and the Secretary-Treasurer's office at the University of Georgia since 1980.

Inquiries concerning articles, books, book reviews, advertising in the Journal of Southern History, departmental activities, and professional news and notices should be directed to:

MESSAGE FROM MEMPHIS

Dear SHA Members,

We very much regret that we cannot host all of you this fall in Memphis. We were planning a series of events and opportunities that would have made your stay in our city as enjoyable and enriching as possible.

If we had been able to welcome you to the Bluff City, we are confident you would have relished the wide variety of restaurants and food options our city has to offer, from BBQ to soul food, southern fusion to haute cuisine.

If you had come to the home of the blues and the birthplace of rock-n-roll, we are sure you would have reveled in our diverse music and entertainment scene, including the variety of clubs and concert venues along historic Beale Street, as well as the out-of-the way bars and juke joints.

If you had made it to Memphis, we are certain you would have explored some of the “must see” tourist attractions our city has to offer, including Graceland (the second most-visited house in the U.S.), the National Civil Rights Museum (at the site of the tragic assassination of Martin Luther King), the Memphis Rock-n-Soul Museum, Sun Studio, Stax Museum of American Soul Music, and the Memphis Zoo. You might have even made it to the terrific Memphis Brooks Museum of Art, the oldest art museum in Tennessee.

If you had attended the conference in our city, one of the most historically significant cities in the American South, you would have learned of our transformative efforts to confront the difficult aspects of our past by re-framing and re-telling the history of Memphis. Through independent activism and collaborations involving academic institutions, community groups, religious congregations, city government, and grassroots organizations such as the Lynching Sites Project, we have been confronting our historical memories and the tragic consequences of white supremacy. Confederate monuments have come down, and new signage marks the sites of Nathan Bedford Forrest’s antebellum slave market, the Memphis Massacre of 1866, and the lynchings of African Americans in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. This important work is ongoing.

We are grateful that some of the Memphis-based sessions remain on this year’s virtual program, but we are saddened that we will not be seeing you here in-person this fall. We can only hope that the Southern will return to Memphis sometime soon.

Enjoy the virtual meeting.

ABOUT EHS

The European History Section was founded in 1955 to serve European historians, graduate students, and faculty in the South. Over the years, it has grown into a full-fledged associate of the Southern Historical Association, and it now attracts European historians, graduate students, faculty, independent researchers, and patrons of history in the entire United States and abroad. The European History Section is for everyone who is interested in the European past. The European History Section of the Southern Historical Association is the oldest European History Association in the United States. It encourages the study of the history of Europe, particularly by historians in the South. It is the only professional association of Europeanists with a comparative, multi-disciplinary approach. The European History Section is recognized as a non-profit organization under Section 501 (c) (3). All contributions are tax-deductible.

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION FOR WOMEN HISTORIANS

ABOUT SAWH

Founded in 1970 in a small room near the boilers in the basement of Louisville's Kentucky Hotel during a meeting of the SHA, SAWH supports the study of women's history and the work of women historians. The SAWH especially welcomes as members all women and men who are interested in the history of the U.S. South and/or women's history, as well as all women historians in any field who live in the South. The SAWH meets annually in conjunction with the Southern Historical Association (SHA), awards publication prizes, and sponsors the Southern Conference on Women's History every three years. SAWH members receive a thrice-yearly newsletter with conference announcements, calls for papers, and news about the organization and its members.

SOCIETY OF CIVIL WAR HISTORIANS

ABOUT SCWH

The Society of Civil War Historians (SCWH) was founded in 1985. It seeks to promote the study of the Civil War era and to bring greater coherence to the field by encouraging the integration of social, military, political, and other forms of history. The Society organizes a biennial conference; awards the Tom Watson Brown Prize for the best book on Civil War era history; the Anne J. Baily Dissertation Award; the biennial Anthony E. Kaye Memorial Essay Award; and the outstanding graduate student paper given at the SCWH conference. Members receive subscriptions to The Journal of the Civil War Era. Florida Atlantic University serves as the organizational home for the Society of Civil War Historians, and Penn State's George and Ann Richards Civil War Era Center manages the biennial conference and the journal.

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE ON BRITISH STUDIES

ABOUT SCBS

SCBS is a regional branch of the North American Conference on British Studies (NACBS). The Conference meets annually, customarily in the Fall in conjunction with the Southern Historical Association. The meeting comprises two days of paper sessions with two or more panels running concurrently. The SCBS construes British Studies very broadly to include the history, literature, arts, and culture of the Home Islands and the Commonwealth. It welcomes into membership anyone interested in such subjects, whether or not pursued professionally.

SOUTHERN LABOR STUDIES ASSOCIATION

ABOUT SLSA

The SLSA promotes research and teaching in the field of southern labor and working-class studies, facilitates active programs of scholarly exchange among academics, teachers, archivists and activists, and works to build and strengthen a sense of community among students and scholars of labor and the working-class in the U.S. South.

PROGRAM COMMITTEE MESSAGE

Kendra Field

Joseph Reidy

Randy J. Sparks

Welcome to the 2020 SHA meeting

On behalf of SHA President Thavolia Glymph and the 2020 program committee, we hope that this message finds you well at this challenging time.

This has been an unusual year, to say the least. We had hoped to convene in person in Memphis, but in light of the pandemic, the program committee has decided to present a smaller number of sessions virtually this year, and to postpone the remaining sessions to the 2021 meeting. We would like to thank all of our program participants who worked so patiently with us to sort out these plans. We would also like to thank SHA President-elect Steven Hahn and the 2021 program committee for graciously accommodating the new arrangements.

While the themes of the 2020 virtual program are varied, we cherish especially the opportunity to commemorate in featured panels the history of women's suffrage and the 14th and 15th amendments, as well as the rich history of Memphis, as we had planned to do in person. We also embrace the opportunity to reflect upon our current historical moment, as we navigate the dual pandemics of Covid-19 and American structural racism. An additional highlight of this year's program is an address by esteemed poet Nikki Finney at Thursday evening's opening plenary.

We sincerely hope you will join us in 2020 for this unprecedented virtual gathering, as well as the 2021 SHA meeting in New Orleans. We wish you and your families health and peace in the days to come.

2020 Program Committee Co-chairs

Kendra Field, Tufts University
Joseph Reidy, Howard University
Randy J. Sparks, Tulane University

COMMONWEALTH OF COMPROMISE

CIVIL WAR COMMEMORATION IN MISSOURI

Amy Laurel Fluker

$35.00 • 288 pp.

6 photos • 1 map

cloth: 978-0-8262-2208-4

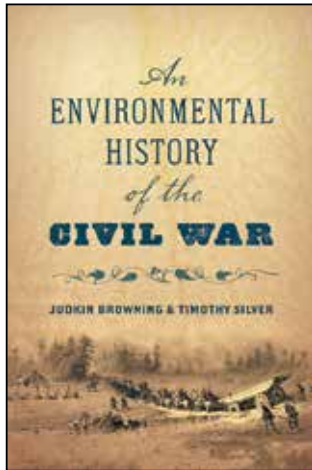

ebook: 978-0-8262-7444-1

“Fluker complicates our understanding of Civil War memory by examining a place, Missouri, that did not conform to simple categories of Lost Cause, Unionist, or emancipationist memories of the war. Instead Missourians fashioned a memory that allowed disparate groups to preserve elements of their unique memories in a larger reconciliationist framework.”

—Nicole Etcheson,
author of A Generation at War: The Civil War Era in a Northern Community

The Kent State University Press is thrilled to welcome DR. JIM DOWNS (Gettysburg College) and DR. CRYSTAL FEIMSTER (Yale University) as the incoming Editor and Associate Editor of the Civil War History journal!

We wish to extend our sincere gratitude to the outgoing editorial team of BRIAN CRAIG MILLER, Editor; FRANK TOWERS, Associate Editor; and RYAN KEATING, Book Review Editor.

ABOUT CIVIL WAR HISTORY

Published quarterly, Civil War History covers the entire scope of the American Civil War era. Topics include slavery and abolition, antebellum and Reconstruction politics, diplomacy, social and cultural developments in mid-19th century America, and military history. Overseen by a board of internationally renowned scholars, the journal highlights the latest scholarship and provides extensive book reviews.
